Additional Information: The DAA Automatic Brass Marker is a unique and innovative solution for shooters wanting to easily recover their fired brass on the range. Double Alpha's Automatic Brass Marker will stripe your loaded ammo with one or two lines around the circumference of the case, while reloading your ammo! Once fired, the spent brass is easy to spot and collect from the range floor.

As the bullet drops out of your reloading press, they are directed through the Output Chute (included) and down the 40cm long spring into the Automatic Brass Marker. First the rounds are oriented through the entry funnel, flipping upside down bullets so that all land on the ramp with their bullet first.
